

Enjoy our green campus, just an hour from central London

Our beautiful parkland campus is a safe and convenient place to study and excellent transport links mean that Brighton, London and the UK's largest airports are a short journey away.

Our students say one of the best things about Sussex is the campus. Just nine minutes by train from Brighton city centre and about an hour from central London, the Sussex campus is located in the South Downs – an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, offering some of the most breathtaking scenery in England.

Surrounding the campus you'll find stunning views, quiet walks and plenty of opportunity for hiking, mountain biking or paragliding. The rural setting means you can enjoy the best of both worlds – peace and tranquillity while you study, but with the buzz of Brighton and London within easy reach.

Rail connections

Regular train services from Falmer (our campus station) mean it's easy to reach Brighton – and from there you'll find rail connections to:

- London (fast service 51 minutes)
- Heathrow, Europe's busiest airport (1 hour 45 minutes, changing in London)
- Gatwick, the UK's second largest airport (fast service, 26 minutes).

To check train times to other UK cities, visit www.nationalrail.co.uk

Bus services

Our campus is also linked to Brighton by the city's award-winning bus service, which runs 24 hours a day and seven days a week – so it's easy to get home after a night out in the city. Find timetables online at www.buses.co.uk

Cycle routes

Brighton was recently voted the UK's healthiest city*, and cycling is central to the city's transport planning. You can ride from the city centre to the campus in around 30 minutes using the cycle paths, and cycle stands are available on campus.

* Sky Travel, 2007